Spy Speak

Across

- 4. Background of a cover story
- 8. A bug placed on a telephone
- 10. Foreigner recruited to assist a secret service
- 13. Another term for "spy" mostly used in the U.S.
- 14. Cover adapoted at a moment's notice
- 15. A forger who produces fake documents or money
- 16. A mission of which the government will deny all knowledge of if it is blown
- 19. The head of a group of spies
- 21. What happens to your cover story if the enemy discovers who you are
- 22. A secret mark made in a public place to send a particular message, such as that a dead letter drop box has been made or that a spy needs to be extracted without delay
- 24. Following someone on foot in surveillance jargon
- 25. A secret location where a spy can leave messages for other spies
- 26. CIA training school
- 27. An illegal operation

Down

- A list of information that control requires a spy to retrieve and is also called a "questionnaire"
- an agent in deep cover in the same place for a long time who is ready to provide information when required
- A false name that protects your real identity on a mission
- lies spread to cover up what is really going on
- "Unwelcome Person"; a person who has been caught spying and must leave the country
- Passwords or pass-phrases used by spies who do not know each other in order to identify each other in the field
- 9. A plausible explanation fabricated to give a seemingly innocent reason for a spy's activities
- 11. Another name for the CIA
- 12. A role in a foreign country that provides spying opportunities
- 15. A spymaster or leader of a group of spies
- 17. A place where messages can be passed directly from spy to spy
- 18. An agent who infiltrates an enemy secret service to pass back secrets to their government
- 20. A spy who appears to be working for one side, but is actually working fro another
- 21. A small electronic device that secretly records conversations
- 23. A setup where a spy tries to make someone fall in love with them to find out secrets or manipulate their actions